

SPW WORLDWIDE EQUITY PORTFOLIO
31 MARCH 2024

PORTFOLIO DESCRIPTION AND INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE

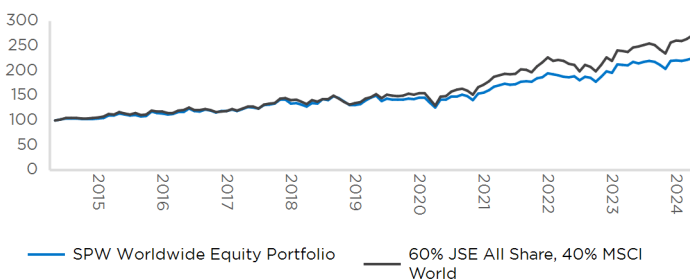

This is an equity portfolio that invests both locally and offshore. The portfolio aims to achieve capital and income growth over an investment horizon of at least five years, by investing in companies that are undervalued relative to their intrinsic value. The local portion of the portfolio offers a carefully selected, well-diversified basket of shares from all sectors on the JSE. It may also provide exposure to unlisted shares. The investments in the portfolio are subject to rigorous, in-depth research and adhere to Sanlam Private Wealth's pragmatic value-investment philosophy. Offshore exposure is obtained through direct investment in listed equities and/or investment in equity funds. Both active and passively managed funds (i.e. index trackers) are provided.

YOUR PERSONAL EQUITY PORTFOLIO

PORTFOLIO MANAGER'S COMMENTS

The global equity market continued the rally that started in October 2023 into the first quarter of 2024, once again led by US tech. However, this time the equity market did not require lower rates to perform, as traders pushed back their expectation for central bank rate cuts amid stickier-than-hoped-for inflation prints. Rather, equities were bolstered by economic data that suggested a still-resilient economy, while financial conditions loosened as the confidence of market participants grew. In March, the equity market started to broaden out as some of the cyclical sectors such as energy, mining and financials outperformed.

Developed market equities, as measured by the MSCI World Index, rose 8.9% in US dollar terms in the first quarter. The technology (+12.4%), financial (+10.7%) and energy (+10.1%) sectors led the gains, while the more rates-sensitive and defensive sectors such as consumer staples (+3.5%) and real estate (-1.3%) lagged. As real interest rates increased, the US Dollar Index strengthened by 3.1%, while the gold price jumped 8.1%, disengaging from its historic inverse relationship to interest rates as strong demand from the East supported its price.

South African equities, as measured by the FTSE/JSE All Share Index, continued to struggle versus global equities over the quarter, losing 2.2% in rand terms (or 5.7% in US dollars). Platinum shares were particularly weak, while higher bond yields put pressure on financial shares. Sasol also continued to underperform. Gold mining shares rose on the back of a higher gold price, while rand-hedge shares British American Tobacco, Bidcorp, Richemont and Naspers/Prosus also outperformed. The rand was on the back foot, weakening by 2.8% against the US dollar.

The portfolio recorded a return of 7.0% in rand terms - net of fees - for the 12 months to the end of March, underperforming the benchmark return of 13.8%, with the absolute performance aided by rand weakness. The portfolio's underperformance relative to its benchmark was broad-based, as the offshore 'high quality', 'growth' and 'value' components all underperformed their benchmarks due to the very narrow market for most of the period.

We made no changes to the South African component of the portfolio. The largest offshore building block, the Sanlam Global High Quality Fund, sold its positions in Bayer and Unilever and established a new position in Hilton Worldwide. We like the asset-light global hotels business model since the brand owner does not own the physical hotel properties, allowing for high returns on capital.

Outlook and portfolio positioning

Considering the sharp rise in interest rates over 2022 and 2023 and the reduction in global money supply, the US economy has remained remarkably resilient. However, we know that monetary policy works with variable lags. Inflation and the labour market have not yet returned to equilibrium, while loose fiscal policy, excess savings and fixed rate debt have slowed the impact of tighter monetary policy. This has created uncertainty over the appropriateness of current monetary policy and the future interest rate path, with significant repercussions for expected asset class performance. In this environment, appropriate diversification becomes even more important.
